Add Dependency [Close]

Define a group of applications that will satisfy a specific software dependency.

Specify one or more applications. If any one of the specified applications is present on a device, this dependency group is considered satisfied for that device. To automatically install one of these applications if none are detected, check Auto Install for the desired applications. Installation attempts will occur in the order listed.

Dependency group name:

Priority	Application	Supported Deployment Types	Auto Install
----------	-------------	----------------------------	--------------
